City of Windhoek owed N$932.7 million in unpaid municipal bills. The City of Windhoek is owed N$932.7 million in outstanding municipal bills and is conducting a mass disconnection exercise targeting accounts that have been in arrears for at least 30 days. The disconnection exercise forms part of the municipality's approved credit control policy and is aimed at recovering outstanding revenue needed to finance municipal operations essential services. and maintain The exercise comes amid calls for residents to boycott municipal payments, raising concerns about the City's ability to meet financial obligations to bulk water and electricity suppliers, contractors and infrastructure maintenance providers. – The Brief

Dangote's pipeline puts transporters in focus. The proposed 1,700 kilometre T (km) fuel pipeline by Nigerian businessman Aliko Dangote puts the structure of Namibia's fuel haulage industry in focus, with the infrastructure designed to move petroleum products in bulk between Walvis Bay and inland distribution points. Pipelines transport large volumes of fuel between terminals and storage facilities, while tanker trucks deliver products to filling stations, mines, farms and industrial customers. The proposed network could therefore change the role of road transport in bulk fuel movements without eliminating the need for trucking across the wider distribution chain. For haulage operators, the key issue is how transport will be divided between pipeline infrastructure and road-based delivery. – Market Watch

Langer Heinrich uranium mine generates N$1.52bn in quarterly revenue. Paladin Energy's Langer Heinrich uranium mine in Namibia generated N$1.52 billion (US$92.4 million) in revenue during the quarter ended 30 September 2026, representing a 3% decline from the N$1.56 billion (US$95.3 million) recorded in the preceding quarter. According to Paladin Energy's latest quarterly financial report, the decline was primarily driven by lower uranium sales volumes, which fell from 1.35 million pounds in the June quarter to 1.16 million pounds in the September quarter. The mine produced 1 million pounds of uranium oxide (U_3O_8) during the period, with output affected by a planned maintenance shutdown and lower processing plant recovery rates. – Mining & Energy

Hake quota cut by 13% to 116,000 tonnes. The government has reduced its hake Total Allowable Catch (TAC) for the 2026/2027 fishing season by 17,000 tonnes to 116,000 tonnes, a 13% decline from the previous allocation of 133,000 tonnes, following declining fish stocks. The ministry of agriculture, fisheries, water and land reform said the reduction was necessary to ensure the long-term sustainability of Namibia's marine resources through a precautionary approach to fisheries management. The Rock Lobster TAC, meanwhile, remains unchanged at 180 tonnes. – Windhoek Observer

South Africa October gross reserves fall to $74.513b. South Africa's gross reserves fell to $74.513b in October from $75.429b in September, according to the South African Reserve Bank.

South African cities set for coalition rule as voters punish ANC. South African political parties intensified coalition negotiations following the announcement of the results from municipal elections that produced no outright winner in seven of the eight biggest cities and saw a further weakening in support for the African National Congress. Final tallies released by the Electoral Commission of South Africa on Sunday showed the ANC remained the largest party with 30.8% support, down from 46% in the last local government vote in 2021 and its worst showing since it took power after apartheid ended in 1994. Its biggest rival, the Democratic Alliance, narrowed the gap by increasing its share to 24.6% from 22%.

Shoprite's Sixty60 online sales soar over 33%. Sales on the Shoprite group's on-demand platform Sixty60 soared 33.4% in the four months to the end of October, the Cape Town-headquartered retail giant said in a voluntary operational update on Friday. Sixty60 initially launched in late 2019 (just before the Covid pandemic hit) as an online sales platform via a mobile app for its upper market Checkers stores. But last year, the group started rolling out the service in some of its Shoprite stores, which presents further growth for the group. The group's Sixty60 sales reached R25.5 billion in its full-year to the end of June 2026. This means that if it continues to grow at current double-digit levels, Sixty60 sales will top the R30 billion mark during the current financial year (FY2027). – Moneyweb

Sun International quietly shuts down Kimberley casino. Gambling operator Sun International has shut down its smallest property, Flamingo Casino in Kimberley. Operations ceased at the casino at 3am on 1 November, following its final trading day on 31 October. The casino has operated on the outskirts of the Northern Cape capital for more than 24 years and is the first permanent closure of a licensed land-based operation. In a notice to "valued guests", the group says "following the conclusion of the formal process, the decision was made to close Flamingo Casino". "Our focus is on supporting affected stakeholders and ensuring customers receive clear guidance and assistance." - Moneyweb

Michael Lewis ousted as TFG chair. Chair of TFG Limited, Michael Lewis, will step down from the board at the end of December, ending an 11-year run in the role. He has been a director of the retailer for almost 38 years. While the official line is that Lewis will "retire as a director and chair of the board", Moneyweb understands that mounting shareholder discontent has forced the change. It is highly unusual for a chair of a JSE-listed company to depart before an AGM. Shares jumped 11% on the news, despite the group reporting a 0.1% increase in group revenue with a 6.8% drop in Heps (headline earnings per share) for the six months to 30 September. Those gains have since pared. – Moneyweb

Woolworths's R21.5bn Australian gamble ends in David Jones collapse. Australia's oldest department store David Jones, previously owned by SA's Woolworths, collapsed on Thursday, finally succumbing after almost 200 years as the digital era drove shoppers to cheaper and nimbler online rivals. David Jones was placed into voluntary administration, a process similar to business rescue in SA that seeks to save financially distressed companies by restructuring their operations. McGrathNicol executives were appointed as voluntary administrators, while FTI Consulting staff were named receivers, according to a statement. David Jones's physical and online stores continue to trade while McGrathNicol seeks buyers or offers to recapitalise the business. David Jones has ties to SA, as Woolworths bought the retailer for R21.5 billion in 2014, when Ian Moir was CEO. – Moneyweb

SADC News

Fitch Ratings has affirmed Angola's long-term issuer default ratings (idrs) at 'b-' with a stable outlook. Angola's 'B-' ratings balance moderate government debt, current account surpluses and international reserves above peer medians against high dependence on oil, weak governance indicators and elevated debt service compared with revenues. Fiscal slippage despite higher oil receipts and sizeable external amortizations in 2028-2029 leave the sovereign vulnerable to renewed financing pressures.
