International Market Wrap

US equity-index futures rallied as buyers returned following Friday's selloff in artificial intelligence companies. Treasury futures fell and the yen weakened as demand for haven assets ebbed. Contracts for the S&P 500 Index added 2.2% in Asian trading after the underlying gauge dropped for a seventh straight day Friday, pushing it into a technical correction. Nasdaq 100 Index futures rose 2.9%, following the tech-heavy gauge's worst week in more than six years and a slide that brought it close to bear-market territory. "A bounce was always likely after seven straight days of losses," said Josh Gilbert, lead analyst for Asia Pacific at eToro Ltd. "The move in futures reflects how oversold tech had become."

Local News

Namibia plans to use mining revenue to diversify economy. The government is developing an economic diversification strategy aimed at reducing Namibia's dependence on mining by channelling revenue from the sector into the development of other industries. Speaking during a public finance training session, Shidhudhu said the government intended to use proceeds from mining activities to stimulate growth in other sectors of the economy. "As the Ministry of Finance, currently we are busy developing the economic diversification strategy. This is the document that is going to stipulate what the government is going to do to ensure that we don't just depend on mining, but we use what we get from the mining sector to diversify other economic sectors," Shidhudhu said. – Mining & Energy

Transport equipment investment reaches record N$10 billion. Nominal investment in transport equipment reached a record N$10 billion in 2025, following a recovery that began in 2021. Yet in real terms, investment remains below the levels recorded in the early 2010s. Commercial vehicle sales increased by 12.1% year-on-year in September 2026, bringing sales for the first nine months of the year to 6,629 units, an increase of 16%. Heavy commercial vehicle sales recorded particularly strong growth of 64.3%, reaching their highest January-to-September level since records began in 1998, according to WesBank Commercial lending manager Felicity Philander. Philander said businesses were investing in trucks, machinery and specialised equipment to replace ageing assets, expand operations and prepare for opportunities they expect to materialise in the coming years. – Windhoek Observer

Namibia targets 18% manufacturing contribution to GDP by 2030. President Netumbo Nandi-Ndaitwah said achieving the target would require increased investment in domestic production, value addition and the participation of young entrepreneurs across key economic sectors. Speaking at the inaugural National Youth Trade Forum, Nandi-Ndaitwah urged young entrepreneurs to pursue opportunities in mining, energy, agriculture and fisheries through processing, packaging and manufacturing. "Namibia's economic enablers should not be reserved for established businesses and large investors, but should create opportunities for young entrepreneurs to participate across the value chain," she said. The manufacturing target forms part of the Sixth National Development Plan (NDP6), which seeks to expand Namibia's industrial capacity, strengthen small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and increase domestic production. – The Brief

Fly Namibia offers government 51% stake. Westair Group is offering the government 51% stake in Fly Namibia, with the option for private shareholders to sell the remaining 49%, as the country prepares to launch national airline Namibian Air in December. Namibia Air come at a cost of N$12 billion. In a letter to minister of works and transport Veikko Nekundi, dated 28 March 2025, which The Namiban has seen Westair managing director Gustav Holz says the shareholders and board of Fly Namibia are willing to collaborate with government in selling 51%. – The Namibian

SA Economic News

Rand poised for worst week since March as carry appeal fades. South Africa's rand headed for its worst weekly slump in eight months, after the nation's central bank kept its policy rate unchanged while Federal Reserve officials signalled they're poised to tighten. The rand has plunged 3.3% this week, the most since the five days ended 06 March, and the worst performance after Brazil's real among 21 emerging-market currencies tracked by Bloomberg.

Company News

Mr Price reaps rewards of NKD Group acquisition. Interim revenue for the 26 weeks to end-September rose 40.5% to R26.1bn with NKD consolidated from end-March, and operating profit rose 30.7% to R2.8bn. HEPS rose just 2% to 523c as financing costs weighed. The interim dividend is 329.5c, up 2%. Africa retail sales rose 3.1% to R18.4bn against RLC industry growth of 1.2%. — Business Day

Nepi Rockcastle raises €500m in green bond sale. Nepi Rockcastle has raised €500m (R9.6bn) through a green bond after investor demand surged to more than five times the amount the property group wanted to raise. The JSE-listed group said on Friday that its wholly owned subsidiary, NE Property BV, had attracted more than €2.7bn in investor interest from about 110 investors, more than five times the amount it raised. The five-year bond will pay investors 4.75% annual interest and is due for repayment in November 2031. It is backed by Nepi Rockcastle and is expected to receive a BBB+ rating from S&P Global and Fitch, it said. The group said the transaction would extend the time it has to repay its debt and increase the share of green funding in its overall borrowing. The money raised will be used to fund or refinance projects that meet the group's environmental requirements under its Green Finance Framework. – Business Day

Novus earnings soar on Mustek acquisition. Printing and packaging group Novus has signalled that it will report a big jump in earnings for the six months to September 2026, driven by its acquisition of technology group Mustek. In a trading update on Friday, the company said earnings per share (EPS) is expected to be between 208.03c and 210.69c, representing an increase of more than 100% compared with the previous comparable period. HEPS is expected to be between 22.88c and 25.54c, a decrease of 3.9%-13.9% compared with the 26.57c reported previously. The group EPS is up "mainly due to the one-off gain on the bargain purchase of R566.4m recognised as part of the group's purchase price allocation of Mustek." "Headline earnings for the period exclude the gain on bargain purchase but include the release of a one-off inventory fair value uplift recognised as part of the purchase price allocation on the effective date of the acquisition of Mustek amounting to R145m," the group said. – Business Day.

SADC News

Angola's first gold refinery lacks the supply to run full tilt. Angola opened its first gold refinery, but the southwest African nation lacks sufficient domestic supply of bullion for the plant to run at full capacity. State-owned diamond company Endiama, which operates the facility, said it can process 25 kilograms of gold a day during a single eight-hour shift — worth $930 million annually — climbing to $1.9 billion if two shifts were deployed. But Mineral Resources Minister Diamantino Azevedo told reporters at an opening ceremony on Friday that Angola's current gold production isn't even enough to keep it running for one full shift. Angola has issued 49 gold exploration licenses, but only four operations are producing gold, he said.

Zambia upgraded to B- by S&P. Zambia's long-term foreign currency debt rating was upgraded by S&P to B- from CCC+. Supportive copper prices and strong real GDP growth underpin expectations that Zambia's gradual fiscal consolidation and deleveraging will continue.
