National pension, medical funds miss presidential deadline. Government has failed to operationalise Namibia's National Pension Fund and National Medical Benefit Fund nearly eight months after the 01 April deadline set by President Netumbo Nandi-Ndaitwah, with the Social Security Commission (SSC) still awaiting assessments to determine its readiness to administer the schemes. The two funds were provided for under the Social Security Act of 1994 but have remained unimplemented for more than three decades. WeBuyCars CEO bets on faster growth as shares slide. WeBuyCars' share price slumped on Monday after the second-hand car dealer reported an 18.5% fall in annual headline earnings, even as its incoming CEO said the group would accelerate its expansion despite cheaper new vehicles, particularly Chinese brands, squeezing used-car prices, volumes and margins. Incoming CEO Wynand Beukes, who takes over from co-founder Faan van der Walt in January, said the company would keep investing in its footprint and pursuing market share growth rather than scaling back after a difficult financial year. "We're actually going to accelerate growth," he told Business Day. – Business Day
